

She then gave us copies of paintings, engravings and lithographies representing different types of women – workers, dancers, perfect housewives and femmes fatales- and asked us to transform the women into men using paint, feltpens, Crayons, pieces of magazines,...

It was really funny !

Here are the originals :

Here are our creations :

Once we had finished, we took our creations and compared them with the actual works of art.

By the way, this is our guide !

What do you think ? Pretty good, uh ?
