

Tomi Ungerer

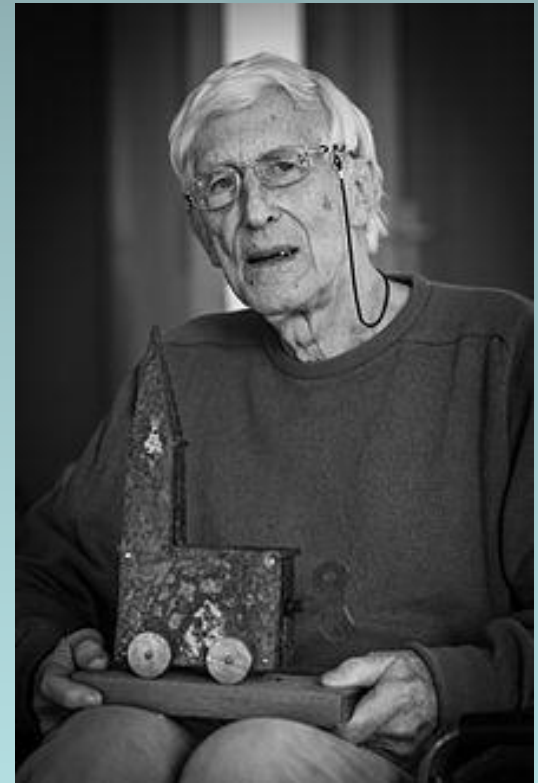

Tomi Ungerer is a man of 87 years old.
Tomi Ungerer now lives in Ireland.

- Tomi UNGERER is French. He was born on 28th November 1931, in Strasbourg, Alsace.

He is an illustrator, painter, draftsman and French author. His great-grandfather Auguste Théodore, his grandfather Alfred (1861-1933) and his father Théodore worked in watchmaking.

Tomi Ungerer lived in Strasbourg during his youth. He now lives in Ireland. For a part of his life he made his home in America. From time to time he returns to Strasbourg his hometown where he owns a house.

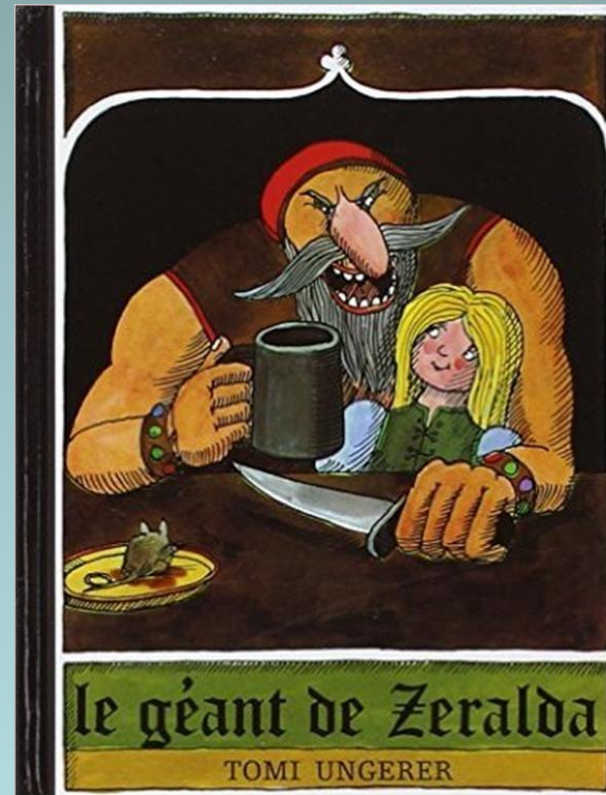

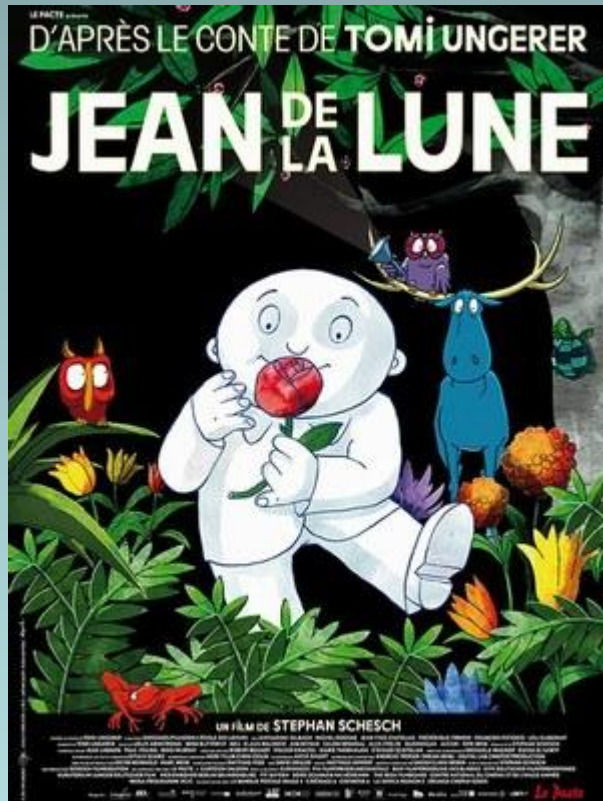

- Tomi Ungerer speaks Alsatian, English and French.

Tomi Ungerer writes children's books.

For example:

When we went to the Tomi Ungerer museum, we saw this picture and after that we had to draw this picture.

- In the Tomi Ungerer museum there is a collection of mechanical toys.

He was against racism and injustice.

He fights all kind of injustice.

Here is a Tomi Ungerer poster:

- The poster "Black Power / White Power" has become one of the most famous political and satirical images of the designer. Originally designed for the cover of the New York magazine Monocle, it was later published as a poster.

Black Power / White Power 1967 Poster, offset reproduction 490 x 710 mm
Strasbourg Museums / Diogenes Verlag AG
Zürich Photo: Strasbourg / Martin Bernhart
Museums